

Guys and gals,

Back in the UK recovering from the jet lag but still enjoying the after-glow of a wonderful couple of weeks at XCstravaganza. It was a real pleasure to see everyone again and to meet the new interlopers and newest members of the extended family. Thank you to everyone for helping to make the celebration such a huge success.

Now, I need your help and assistance.

Photos

I need you to share your “least bad” photographs (and don’t be too picky when deciding which ones to share). So far we’ve had photos from Grandpa, Sandy & Pam, Amanda and one from Susie. I know there are more!

You can upload your photos to the SkyDrive we created where you can also see and “borrow” any of the other photos which have been uploaded.

To upload your photos go to <http://skydrive.live.com>

You’ll need to sign in with the username xcstravaganza@stragnell.com and the password 26Aug1923 (case specific).

Once you’ve logged in click to open the Photos from XCstravaganza 2013 folder and then click to open your personal folder. Click the Upload icon on the Menu Bar to choose the photos to upload. Let me know if you have any difficulties.

Recipes

I also need the recipes for the various meals which we had the pleasure of consuming during the festivities. If you could send me the recipes or send me appropriate links if they are available online. Several participants have already enquired about the availability of the XCstravaganza cook book and I personally am very keen to have the recipe for Rob’s Ribs.

Lots of love,

Greg
